LOCAL NEWS.

County court at Campton Monday.

J. Taylor Day is building a house on Broadway, to rent.

Dr. Taulbee has just returned from a protracted professional tour.

Breathitt circuit court begins next week, and several of our citizens will attend.

Two interesting letters from Missouri are unavoidably crowded out, but will appear next week.

Mrs. Haney, living on Grassy, whose illness we reported last week, we are glad to say, is much better.

Geo. Rice will burn a large kiln of brick in town this season, and will commence molding about May 1st.

Rev. J. T. Pieratt, of our town, filled the pulpit at Campton Sunday, it being his regular appointment.

Hon. D. S. Godsey, in mind and make will be a member which Montgomery, Menifee, &c. need not be ashamed of.

A Red River correspondent informs us of the death of Mrs. James Watkins, of consumption, at that place, on March 30th.

Rev. E. P. Mickell preached two sermons, on last Saturday, in Maple Grove neighborhood and made two pastoral calls.

The short but tough prince of detectives, Pat Punch, abandoned the search for Caskey and left for home Monday evening.

We have this week been compelled to eliminate some of our correspondence on account of the late arrival of the communications.

Boston Post: Dan Manning eats one meal early in the morning and another at night. He was once an editor, but lately has taken to eating an extra meal.

James Hall, the plasterer, has moved to Campton, and his former residence here is now occupied by T. J. Stephenson, who has moved here from above town.

Taylor Price, deputy collector for this district, is in our county on business, and taking (Custer like) his last ride. The boys all like Taylor, but ta, ta, by-by, boo-hoo.

Mr. Carter, of Mt. Sterling, is now finishing up the tinwork on Senator Mize's handsome dwelling, and will go to Campton next week, to do some work on the court house.

Hon. D. S. Godsey, will perhaps take possession of and run the Day hotel in a short time. If so its management will be superb under his and his amiable wife's auspices.

Some enterprising man should build ten or fifteen cottage houses in this town for tenants. There is nothing which so speedily builds up the population of a town as cheap, substantial dwellings for skilled labor.

J. G. Trimble, who recently visited our town, being the owner of several fine building lots here, is making arrangements to erect four nice cottages for rent. The demand for such houses is greater than the supply.

Hon. W. O. Mize received a letter from Judge D. I. Vermillion, of Perry county, from which we are permitted to clip: "The Swango water improved my health so much last fall, that I propose to spend most of my time at Hazel Green next summer."

A private letter from Supt. Harper, of the coal road, informs us that if an hour or so change in time will assist in working up the proposed stage line, he will gladly make it in either the arrival or departure of his trains. The offer is a magnanimous one, and we hope some person will have the enterprise to start the line.

Silas Ratcliffe, living but a short distance from Hazel Green, is now past 93 years of age and is remarkably hale and hearty for one so old. He told us, a few days since, that for three-fourths of a day he could plow as much as any young man in the county. Uncle Silas moved to this county from Virginia, about 45 years ago.

HATFIELD AND WILLIAMS CAUGHT.

Capt. Punch and His Posse Run Them Down After Several Days' Work.

[From The Herald's Extra of April 6th.]

Capt. Pat Punch, marshal of Mt. Sterling, accompanied by Henry Watson, started in pursuit of the fugitives at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. They first went to Spencer station, on the K. & S. A. B. R., where some of Hatfield's connections live. There the pursuers noted the trio, and came on to Wolfe to mature their plans for the capture of the fugitives upon their arrival. Arriving at this point, Capt. Punch was joined by Marshal W. T. Day, of Maytown, and John Cox, of this county. Here Capt. Punch outlined the plan of action, and his subordinates acquiesced in it, and on Saturday morning a detachment who had been acting on Punch's suggestions the previous night, brought in Floyd Williams, who was sent to this place under guard. Capt. Punch then ordered his men to dismount and take to the woods, having struck Montaville Hatfield's trail. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon, while Punch and his men were reconnoitering in the neighborhood of old man Hatfield's, a messenger from Montaville Hatfield informed Captain Punch that if he would come alone he would surrender, but otherwise he would not. Punch then, accompanied by Hatfield's father, went about one mile and a half to the top of a mountain, where Hatfield was in position, and armed to defend himself with two double barreled shot-guns and two revolvers. But, in accordance with his promise, he surrendered to Capt. Punch, who brought him in to town and placed him under guard at the Pieratt House, where Williams had been kept during the day.

Capt. Punch took the saddle about 10 Saturday night, and started in pursuit of Willie Caskey, the last of the trio. The strategy displayed by Capt. Punch throughout this whole affair, marks him as a detective "hard to get over" by the criminal class, and adds additional laurels to his already richly wreathed brow for running down outlaws. Montgomery county should feel proud of the possession of such a man, and honor him with something better than the office of marshal. We would suggest that, as the present incumbent seems inefficient for the place, judging from the many escapes, that Pat Punch be made jailer. Then prisoners would be secure, and the law-abiding citizens feel safe from their depredations.

Apocryphal of his promotion, we would say that if Mt. Sterling could secure another marshal to suit, Maytown might be induced to give up W. T. Day. It was he who first arrested Hatfield, and he has made an efficient officer, assisting very materially in these arrests. But to do all justice, R. A. Childers, of Maytown, John Cox, of this county, and all others engaged in the hunt, deserve much credit for their bravery and untiring energy in the pursuit and capture. Up to this hour, 4 o'clock Monday morning, we have not been informed of Caskey's capture, but he will no doubt be taken to-day. All the particulars will be given in THE HERALD of this week. Price, $1.00 a year, in advance.

LATER—On Monday evening Punch abandoned the chase for Caskey, and left for Mt. Sterling. It is, therefore, doubtful whether Caskey will be caught or not, at least for sometime to come.

Personal Paragraphs.

C. J. Little, of Jackson, was in town one day last week.

Sheriff Jack Ringo, of Menifee, was in town one day last week.

James Hargis, of Jackson, paid our town a business visit last week.

Charley Howe, of Mt. Sterling, was in town this week, in the interest of his firm, Trimble Bros.

D. B. Redwine, Esq., of Jackson, was in Hazel Green one day last week on professional business.

Misses Belle Adams, Katie Cecil, Lullie Kash, and Lullie Adams honored our sanctuary with a visit last Saturday.

Marshal Day and Deputy Marshal Childers, of Maytown, were in town last week, on a still-hunt for escaped jailbirds.

Marshal Pat Punch, of Mt. Sterling, was in Hazel Green with his posse, during last week. He was hunting Hatfield, Caskey and Williams.

Rev. W. B. Cooper, of Jackson, spent a few days with friends in our town last week. He was enroute from Lexington, where he has been visiting his wife and children.

Rev. Isaac S. Lykins, a Baptist minister of Grassy creek, Morgan county, aged about 60 years, died at his residence, of consumption, last Friday night. He was buried at Ezel, with Masonic honors on Sunday last.

James C. Stamper, of Stamper branch, an old and influential citizen of this county, who has been confined to the house with some disease of the head and eyes for two months past, is now convalescing. Mr. Stamper is about 72 years of age.

He'll Make a Good One.

Seneca Swimm has taken a case on the HAZEL GREEN HERALD. We credit the report that he will enter the ministry.—[Licking Valley Scorchers.]

Yes, yes, yes. He matriculated when he came to this office, but we think he is undecided as to the denomination he will labor for. Perhaps the Universalists, as he is more nearly a universal talker than any young man we know.

Boston Globe: The latest mathematical question runs as follows: Two girls met three other girls and all kissed. How many kisses were exchanged.

Hartford Post: With Daniel Manning, Daniel Lamont and Daniel Lockwood his closest friends, Mr. Cleveland is a sort of lion in a Daniel's den.

SPRAELING.

Farmers are busy plowing, about here. The wheat crop is all dead, around here.

Corn is in good demand at $1.00 per bushel.

A. J. Cox is confined to his bed with sickness.

Mr. R. Culverson and wife paid us a visit last week.

Mrs. Brittain has been suffering with a bad case of felon.

Hon. C. M. Hanks and W. H. P. Duff were here on business, this week.

Trade is good at this place, just now; better than it has been all winter.

David Lawson, a No. 1 blacksmith, has moved to Spradling with his family.

Mine host, Pieratt, of your town paid us a visit last week. Come again, John.

We are glad to say that the health of this vicinity is very good: only one case of sickness.

Jeff. Brower, sr., has moved from Big Branch to the north fork of Kentucky river.

We should like to have the county officers make us a good road from here to the state road.

Your correspondent is under obligations to THE HERALD for late papers, will try and return the favor.

Mr. Godsey was here shaking hands with the boys. He wants votes. Come, boys! Come up and run him through.

Mrs. H. D. Spradling and younger members of her family have gone to Campton, to pay a visit to her father and friends.

We would like to have "Duster" come down to the classic shades of Spradling and look at the grand view which we can point out to him.

W. F. Hanks, sheriff of Bates county, Mo., will pay Spradling a visit, after an absence of twelve years. Come along, Will, we will be glad to see you.

CAMPTON.

ALBION.

W. F. Hanks, sheriff of Bates county, Mo., is visiting relatives in this county.

Our people are well-pleased with the selection of Mr. Godsey, for representative.

County court convened April 6, with Judge Swango on the bench, and Levi Kash, county attorney, present. Julia A. Ely was appointed adm'r. of the estate of W. B. Ely, dec'd. A. J. Asbury was sworn as police judge of Campton.

J. M. Rose appointed and qualified as guardian of James, Sarah E. and Mary E. Edwards. S. Kincaid was appointed adm'r. of the estate of S. P. Kincaid, deceased. J. M. Cockerham tendered his resignation, as adm'r. of the estate of G. W. Falkner, dec'd. J. R. Hobbs, Allison Rose and D. H. Fallen were appointed supervisors of the tax book for 1885.

Menifee County.

ROTHWELL.

Miss Mary Roberts, of Wolfe, who has been visiting Mrs. B. F. Day, of Mt. Sterling, returned home last Saturday.

If your ducks and chickens are inclined to run about, sell to 'Longfellow,' he will yoke 'em' and keep them at home.

T. A. Stamper lost a fine cow, one day last week. She eat ivy. Neighbors, don't turn out your cows yet awhile to the range, as a cow don't know the difference between ivy and peavine.

John W. Taul, deputy marshal of Mt. Sterling, was up one day last week in search of Jailer Stephen's jail-birds, who so abruptly left their abode on the night of the 30th ult. We didn't see them.

On the night of the 2nd inst. William Griffin eloped with Miss Rebecca J. Cornwell, daughter of J. R. Cornwell. Griffin has been married, but he and his wife have been separated for sometime. The parents are very angry about the affair, but such is life and they will have to take matters cool.

Died—On the night of April 2nd, E. B. Chambers. Strong drink is supposed to have caused his death. He had been on a protracted spree, and was taken sick and medical aid did him no good, so he paid the debt we all owe. Chambers was one of the strongest men we had in the country, and a perfect picture of health. Young men take warning, and let the cup slip before it reaches your lips. Whiskey and brandy will kill, although it may seem to you that you are not being injured by its use, but it is slowly but surely stealing your life away. If you have drank of the poison, drink no more, if you know not its taste, touch it not.

J. J. Byrne, county clerk, and Jonathan Whitaker, constable of Frenchburg, gave us a pleasant call one day last week, and Jonathan tells a good joke officially, on himself. He says when he was honored by the people of his precinct, to the office of constable, he wanted to execute the law to the very letter. Being ignorant, or we may say rusty, as to the law points he sought information of the legal bar of his own as to how he should execute different processes that would be likely to fall into his hands. He was told when he had an execution, when he found the stock, he must rub the paper on the stock levied upon before he could make a legal return of his papers. Shortly after he was sworn into office, he was given an execution on A. so Jonathan takes his papers and proceeds to the residence of Mr. A. on his way some one told him that A. had a flock of sheep that was subject to execution, so when he came to where the sheep were, he climbed the fence and started toward the flock, and selected the largest one, a big weather, this is the one he was going to rub his execution on, but nannie resisted and made for the constable and set him in the mud outside the field. Jonathan had anticipated no trouble, consequently did not have his pop with him. After due consideration Jonathan made the following return on his papers: "Found, but owing to a rebuff no levy could be made." As to the truthfulness of this, ask Mr. Whitaker. LONGFELLOW.

FRENCHBURG.

Miss Ella Johnson, of Hazel Green is visiting friends here.

The wife of J. H. Williams presented him with a fine boy April 3rd.

J. M. Oliver has just returned from

Morgan county whither he went on a business trip.

The mill men are getting in their work. The lumber being the most important now carried on in the county. A dozen or so mills are running in the county, and will ship many thousand feet to market during the season. And there are also many thousand logs in Beaver creek and Red river awaiting a tide.

The fair weather has put the farmers to work and makes it correspondingly dull about town. Our loafing crowds have grown beautifully less. Now is the time for every one to bestir himself, and if the people plant plentifully and cultivate properly, there need be no cry of hard times, as our fertile hills and valleys will produce bountifully to support all our citizens and many more.

T. T. Cope has just returned from Frankfort on a professional business trip. From him we learn that all our citizens who are residing at the capital (and we have eight of them) are getting along very well, except Alonzo Becraft, who is in very bad health, and the governor is willing to pardon him, if his friends will take care of him, which they seem to be unable to do. Query—Would it be an act of charity to take him from the penitentiary and place him in a county poor house?

Morgan County.

MAYTOWN.

E. Northcutt, of Hariba, Menifee county, was in town last week.

Born—To the wife of Alex. Patrick, a girl. Alex. is happy, let us have peace.

J. N. Swetnam, of West Liberty, is in town, the guest of his brother-in-law, E. B. May.

H. D. Spradling, of Spradling, was in town last week looking after the interest of his flouring mill.

Thomas M. Cannoy, of this place, has a quarter of a dollar in money bearing date 1723, thereby being one hundred and sixty two years old.

William Lusk and J. H. Evans, of Hazel Green, are in town on business. Our people are always glad to see Mr. Lusk, as he is considered the champion joker of the mountains.

Work on the M. E. church south, has commenced in earnest, and it is now conceded by all that it is only a question of time, when Maytown will have a first class church house, a thing that has long been needed.

M. C. Bailey, of this place, has sold his house and lot to Rev. J. P. Lockhart of Pine Grove, Ky., for two hundred and twenty-five dollars. Bailey and family have gone to Richmond, Ky. Rev. Lockhart will move to town in a few days.

E. B. May, of this place, has just returned from West Liberty, whither he had gone to look after the interest of his store in that place. He reports business lively for the hard times. His partner, Leslie Swetnam, is confined to his room with pneumonia fever.

An election was held in this town last Monday, and E. B. May was elected mayor, W. T. Day marshal, J. C. Swango, R. P. Dennis, C. W. Clark, W. C. Daniel and J. P. Lockhart trustees. The town has now got a good set of officers, let them see to it that the law is enforced.

Rev. Isaac Murphy, of Grassy creek, has purchased a farm of Rev. J. P. Lockhart, of Pine Grove, for his son Logan, for which he paid five hundred dollars. By the way, Murphy says his dog that killed the skunk has come to life after having been dead ten days. He says if any man can beat that he has a better one to tell yet.

Marshal Day, and Henry Watson, of Mt. Sterling, have Montaville Hatfield and Floyd Williams, two of the parties that broke jail at Mt. Sterling a few days ago, in custody at this place. Your correspondent has had a talk with the boys, and they express the belief that they will come clear on the final trial, if they can succeed in securing the services of able attorneys. Hatfield says two of the most important witnesses against him are dead. Williams, in the final trial, hopes to bring to light some new evidence that will be decidedly in his favor. Public sentiment varies as to the guilt or innocence of the boys. DUSTER.

Breathitt County.

FROZEN CREEK.

It is a good time to fish in the Kentucky river.

Corn is very scarce in this section. It cannot be obtained at any price.

The warm weather we are now having has put new life in the farmers of this section.

The log men are nearly all done hauling logs, and are turning their attention to their farm.

Elkanah Smith is making W. O. Mize, of Hazel Green, a large spinning-wheel, says he will have it done for the senator in a few days. Mr. Smith says that the senator is fond of maple sugar.

John S. Hayes, one of the Jackson high school boys, spent a night with us last week. He says they are having a good school. He spoke of THE HERALD as being one of the most newsy sheets that comes to Jackson. STUMP.

Meeting of the Democratic County Committee Last Monday.

Pursuant to a call of the chairman of the democratic committee of Wolfe county, in regard to the selection of delegates to attend the Frenchburg convention, to be held at Frenchburg, on the 23d day of May, to select and nominate a candidate to represent this district in the next general assembly of this state, the committee met April 6. Present—J. C. Lykins, chairman; W. O. Mize, proxy from Hazel Green; J. M. Quillin, proxy from Campton; J. M. Rose, proxy from Stillwater; E. Shockey, from 7th district, and H. C. Elkins, from 5th district.

On motion, J. M. Quillin was made secretary.

On motion of W. O. Mize, the following resolutions were adopted: Resolved, That we, the committee of Wolfe county, approve and endorse the action of the democratic convention held in Campton to-day, in regard to the selection of delegates to attend the convention to be held at Frenchburg, on May 23d, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the legislature in this district; and further,

Resolved, That THE HAZEL GREEN HERALD is requested to publish the proceedings of this meeting.

On motion of W. O. Mize the meeting then adjourned. J. C. LYKINS, Chairman.

Insurance, in order to be reliable, must be guaranteed by successful and well-known corporations; the policies of doubtful or experimental companies being dear at any price. The best policies are always the cheapest. Insurers should select their companies as they would a banker, or a person who is to hold their funds in trust.
